

EXPECT ENROLLMENT OF 250 AT COLLEGE

SCHOOL WILL OPEN HERE MONDAY

18 Faculty Members Members on Hand for First Term.

An enrollment of 250 is anticipated for the Eastern New Mexico Junior College when it opens next Monday morning for the first winter term. This enrollment is based on transcripts which have been sent in, applications for work which have been granted and statements from students that they were going to attend the college, according to Donald MacKay, president of the college.

There are 18 members of the faculty all of who will be on hand for the opening of school, added MacKay.

According to figures collected by the college 40 students will attend for the benefit of the course in commerce, forty for rural education and 25 for music and art.

The student body will be composed of farm boys and girls, over half of which will be freshmen. Other students will be sophomores who are candidates for the associate arts degree. We hope to graduate 50 students next spring Mr. MacKay added, in discussing plans of the school for the coming term.

Plans are being made for a series of assemblies to be held in the basement of the Methodist church. The night for assembly has not yet been definitely decided upon.

Extension activities will begin with the opening of school under the direction of H. E. Mehrens. Courses will be offered on Saturday for the benefit of teachers. During the week courses, such as community chorus, crafts, politics and government, typing and shorthand, agricultural and literature will be offered for the benefit of people in the community.

College Library Well Equipped For All Needs

The Eastern New Mexico Junior College Library has added material to its book holdings, and at the opening of school will be well equipped to meet the immediate needs of students.

Since most books have been chosen in the light of specific curricular aims the library will have an unusually efficient reference collection for its size. Throughout the school year the library will be able to meet reference needs as they arise.

Many splendid books for general recreational reading have been purchased, and additional magazines and newspapers have been introduced.

Student assistants will be employed to help with book circulation and preparation, and will be able to earn a part of their expenses in this way.

Will Hold Exhibit Friday and Saturday

The public is invited to see the agricultural exhibit which will be on display at the Clem building on Main street, Friday and Saturday of this week.

The winning exhibits will go to the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo, which opens on September 17.

BISHOP BOAZ WILL PREACH AT CLOVIS

Bishop H. A. Boaz of the M. E. Church South will preach at the Methodist church in Clovis Saturday at 11 o'clock.

Miss Helen McConnell of Clovis was a Portales visitor Sunday.

Coach 'Tiny' Reed From Big Springs

Coach Tiny Reed is all that his nick name might suggest in size. He comes here from Big Spring, Texas, where he has been coach for seven years. He also taught in the Amarillo schools.

Reed received his A. B. degree from Texas Tech and his A. M. from the University of Colorado. He comes with a reputation as an athlete and as a coach. He will be director of health and coach of athletics in the Eastern New Mexico Junior College.

FIRST INITIAL WORKOUT ON MONDAY

Expect 30 Men To Be on Hand For 'Preliminaries'

Coach D. H. Reed of the Junior College announced that the first initial workout for the Eastern New Mexico Junior College football team will be held Monday afternoon on the ground in front of the Portales Junior high school. He is expecting 30 men to report for the first workout.

It was impossible to get the showers and dressing rooms ready for the opening college. Arrangements have been made to use the junior high showers until other arrangements can be made.

The play ground in front of the junior high school has been used for an athletic field and can soon be put in shape for a good field for the junior college men to workout.

Coach Reed was not sure with whom the Junior College would open the season; however, he felt sure that the first game would be with the New Mexico freshmen from Albuquerque or the New Mexico Normal College, Silver City, on October 6.

Other games that have been definitely scheduled are the New Mexico Normal University here on November 2, and Wayland College here November 17.

Tentative games have been scheduled with Altus, Oklahoma Junior College; New Mexico Military Institute; West Texas Teachers, Canyon; and the State College Freshmen, Las Cruces.

Players are coming from Eastern New Mexico and West Texas. Roosevelt county has the greatest number of prospects so far; however, Coach Reed states that players are reporting every day that he had not counted on.

Players from Roosevelt county who have already made known their intentions of coming out on the squad are, Collins Hilliard, Harold Knox, Paul Neville, Guy Patterson, Carol McCasland, Dale Widner, Alton Miller, Bas Preston, and Olen Caviness.

Players coming from other parts of the state are, Othra Moper, Logan; Lawrence Growden and Virlin Casey, Ranchvale; H. C. Ruyle and J. B. Best, Forest.

The out-of-state players are Joe Freeman, Pampa, Texas; Alvis Blurry, Spur, Texas; Howard Schwarzenback, Big Springs, Tex.; George Jones, Lubbock, Tex.; Jas. Smith, Fernie Conklin, Ralph Jordan and W. Mathews, Lamesa, Texas.

DRILLING OF OIL WELL STEADILY PROGRESSING

Drilling of Claudell No. 1 is steadily going on at the Claudell community and reports Wednesday morning was that they were over 300 feet. The hole is still being drilled 20 inches, and is now in red bed.

Last week a number of truck loads of heavy casing was delivered to the location.

Miss Mae Beth Lawson, secretary, was born and reared in Tucumcari. She was educated in Chicago and is an accomplished pianist and music teacher.

ATTEMPT TO ABDUCT A TEACHER FAILS

Escapes From Kidnappers While They Repaired Tire.

WALKS TO HOME

Officers Think Fugitives Headed Toward Portales.

Miss Lillian Hopping, Littlefield, Texas, school teacher walked into Littlefield shortly after daylight Tuesday morning where she told a harrowing story of being abducted by two armed men at 8:30 o'clock last night, and of her subsequent escape from her kidnapers at a point which she believes was about 20 miles west of the Texas town.

Miss Hopping told Sheriff Lem Irvin, of Littlefield, that she escaped from her abductors when they stopped on the roadside to fix a flat tire. She fled into the darkness with the men after her, but eluded them by lying down in a field.

Station KNFA, Clovis police radio, and officers of this region were working today on the theory the men escaped into the badlands south of Clovis some 40 miles, known for some time as the rendezvous of Texas and New Mexico bandits.

Sought Sister

Miss Hopping was sitting alone in the home of her sister, Mrs. Pat Boone, niece of George Littlefield, Eida, Monday night, studying she told officers, when two armed men walked into the house and asked her if she was Mrs. Boone.

She replied that she was not, but one of them grabbed her and hustled her out of the house to a car, in which they fled west from Littlefield.

Miss Hopping said they drove for some time, over a road with which she was not familiar. They stopped to change a tire after a flat; then proceeded for a few miles when another flat occurred.

It was while the men were fixing this flat tire that she suddenly darted into the darkness and mess- quite brush, she told officers. Both men pursued her but she eluded them by lying down in a field. She told of seeing the men searching for her.

After the men had given up the search and departed, Miss Hopping said she started her walk back to Littlefield, a distance she estimated to be about 15 to 20 miles.

Meantime, Mr. and Mrs. Boone, both of whom were at different functions in Littlefield, returned home to find Miss Hopping missing but they thought nothing of her absence, they said, until it became late and she did not appear. They then called officers into the case.

Sheriff Lem Irvin of Littlefield, today said he is confident the men thought they were kidnaping Mrs. Boone, whose husband is said to be quite wealthy, and he believes they expected to hold her until ransom was paid.

Aside from an assertion that they were going to hold her until they got what they wanted, Miss Hopping said the men made no remarks during the time they held her captive. The men were using a 1932 model Chevrolet sedan, the victim told officers, and they drove rapidly.

Miss Hopping said the man treated her courteously and did not attempt in any way to harm her. One of the men she described as tall and dark complexioned. The other was shorter, of heavy build, light complexioned and with wavy hair. Neither of them she recalled ever having seen before.
